"I enjoyed studying at CIT in the "Architecture Factory" because the design of the school and knowledge of the professors allows me advance myself and my studies, knowing I have the support of the school behind me"

"I love to travel so Ireland's proximity to the rest of Europe was a big seller for me. I like the small class sizes and the personal attention you get from your lecturers. You also really get to know your class mates, since it's a relatively smaller group. The support I received from ITB throughout this whole process was nothing short of amazing. Start to finish they made my transition to Ireland so great."
